

A soft, sensual summer sipper to enjoy while we sit and wonder. There are fresh strawberry & raspberry characters with a dash of spice on the nose. Aromas to enliven your senses.

We all need something light and luminous. A soft, sensual summer sipper to enjoy while we sit and wonder. Gisborne has the soil to grow, the sky in which to dream and the climate to enjoy such a wine as our Merlot Rosé. No insecticide, herbicide or systemic fungicide have been used, as well it comes from "dry farmed" vineyards, (i.e. un-irrigated, and there isn't even a carbon debt involved. It might just be good for you. Amazing!

The dense rose colour is startling. We talk about lumins at our place. Lumins are the measurement of the impact of light and how it may provide a visual enhancement to your soul. There are fresh strawberry & raspberry characters with a dash of spice on the nose. Aromas to enliven your senses. Tannins as well, these could well contain the daily requirement of resveratrol so needed. A fresh dry taste, good with summer sustenance, great with friends.

Notes from the Winemaker:

The ripe grapes were harvested by hand in cool early morning conditions, left in contact with the red skins for 48 hours and then pressed off. Cold natural fermentation helps keep the delicate fruit flavours and soft gentle roundness of palate. Serve chilled.

Cellaring potential 3 years from the date of release.
